New features & highlights
One of the leading German-language digital magazines for mobile devices, areamobile provides consumers with expert, objective information that helps them to make informed purchase decisions.

The editorial team reports every day on innovations in the mobile phone segment and on the latest phones. The information on the website is rounded off by a large tariff, community and consumer advice section as well as in-depth mobile phone and tablet reviews.

High level of community involvement: users are early adopters who expect high-quality devices and are opinion leaders when it comes to the latest trends and equipment.
Following the relaunch in autumn 2019, areamobile now boasts a more youthful design. The font is now also more up-to-date and the various elements more clearly structured – in both the stationary and mobile offerings.

The various tools on areamobile – such as the “tariff calculator” or the “mobile phone finder” have been totally redesigned.

Moreover, the leaner and more scaled-down overall design means that the advertising blends in with the content more harmoniously.
